

Your Words: Why are you a DBIA Member?

from our Members, August 2018

The Best IDEAS

Being a DBIA member helps save money by attending webinars and training that I'm not able to attend in-person.

As an Owner's Representative, DBIA membership is important to me because the organization provides the tools to establish Design-Build processes for the requirements of projects.

DBIA Membership has been a big part of professional and personal life for the last almost 20 years.

I can't think of Design-Build without DBIA.

DBIA membership is important to me because of the team-like approach in building a project amongst fellow DBIA members.

DBIA membership provides easy access to the current best practices for design build delivery and procurement process - all in one place.

As our organization has matured, the DBIA Professional Designation and DBIA membership have become more and more respected and sought after by owners.

DBIA membership provides comprehensive continuing education and unparalleled networking opportunities.

DBIA membership and certification has refined my knowledge of Design-Build Done Right.

DBIA keeps us relevant and at the leading edge of project delivery trends throughout North America. I can't think of a more evolving and innovative group that is pointed into the right direction for the future of projects. Thank you DBIA!

DBIA membership is important to me because of the great networking opportunities with owners and contractors. It is also important to me for the educational opportunities.

DBIA is important to me because it brings people with the same goals/minds together in a collaborative effort to provide the best possible solution to an Owner to meet their building needs. It is Design-Build Done Right!

DBIA membership is important to me because it connects me with like-minded professionals who are the most progressive in the industry.

DBIA is the only professional organization that unites Design Build professionals and clients to create a collaborative team for Design Build projects. I have personally used the knowledge that I have gained from my DBIA membership on multiple projects through the years.

Being a member also allows me to be in direct contact with the design build industry leaders, so that I can continue to grow and learn from the best.

DBIA Membership has been vital to the City of Modesto.

I wanted to learn more about design-build and since an investment in knowledge will always pay the best dividends, I invested in a DBIA Membership.

Having a DBIA membership and training has helped our company procure more business in the design-build delivery method.

My DBIA membership is important to me because of the access to the vast base of knowledge and experience DBIA has in their network and online.

DBIA membership connects me to a vast network of trusted designers, engineers, contractors, and material suppliers making my job as easy as the click of a mouse.

Congratulations on an outstanding first 25 years and best wishes for the next 25 and beyond!

DBIA is a fantastic organization that I truly rely on to keep our Design-Build Program moving in the RIGHT direction!

DBIA is important to me because it tells our clients that we know what we are talking about and gives them the confidence that we will manage their design build project correctly.

Thank you for all of the hard work you do and I wish this organization the best as we navigate to the 50 Year Anniversary!

I was born to be a design-builder and the DBIA organization surrounds me with like-minded individuals who believe in the same fundamental principles of collaboration, integration and communication. I feel as though I have found a home with DBIA!

This is great group for networking and sharing Knowledge. I look forward to building the relationships I have made with new friends within this organization.

By belonging to DBIA we can make a difference in the industry

DBIA is a great convening place to help shape the future of the industry.

DBIA is my connection with like-minded industry professionals, locally and nationally, that have the same passion and calling to pursue and promote design-build practices and an integrated approach to project solutions.

There is no other professional membership which comes close to providing the services and guidance needed for be an entry level to master level design build professional.

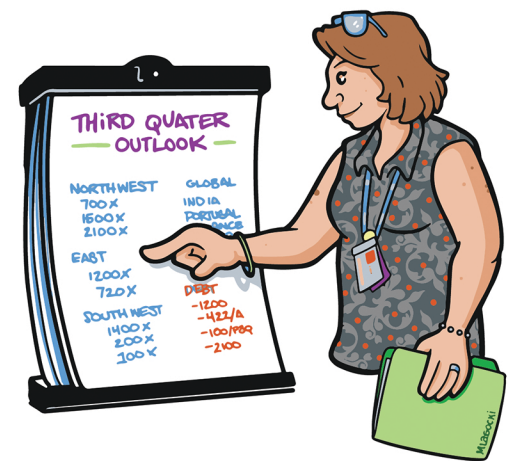

Being a DBIA Member is important to me because it keeps me plugged in with the best and brightest Design-Build owners, construction and design professionals.

DBIA contracts were extremely helpful in preparing my organization for a successful design build project.

The treasure trove of best management practices and legal reference publications are unmatched and priceless.

I want to be a part of the change of getting that industry productivity curve GOING UP and adding value for our clients. After all, that's what it's about, yes?

Understanding the REAL numbers

DBIA is the primary resource on breaking DB methodologies and keeps me abreast of the latest and greatest information available.

I am a DBIA member because I see the value it brings, DB create opportunities to innovate and deliver true design excellence while significantly reducing cost and reducing project delivery time when done right.

I am proud to be a part of such an awesome organization!

I am very grateful for the opportunities my organization has realized through the DBIA.

As a new Design Manager to Design-Build, I appreciate the wealth of experience that DBIA and its members have to offer our State Agency.

I rely on DBIA to provide the most update information on Design Build and Alternative Delivery Systems that I can use to educate the Owners and Agencies I work with.

The most important element of DBIA is advocacy.

DBIA membership is important to me because I want to ensure my agency is following the industry's best practices and doing everything we can to encourage innovation while keeping our projects on schedule and within budget.

DBIA allows me to stay connected with like-minded professionals from a variety of disciplines within the AEC industry and keep up with cutting-edge trends and innovation in the world of design-build.

Becoming a DBIA member has provided me with continuous learning experience, exposure to latest industry trends as well as networking opportunities.

Being a Designated DBIA professional allows me to be recognized as an industry leader with Design Build delivery, not only with my peers but with Clients/Owners.

DBIA Membership is important to me because there is no better place to meet, learn, and grow with like-minded professionals.

With our company's commitment to have DBIA members on staff, it makes us one of the most sought-after design build contractors in our market.

For me DBIA and the relationships I have developed stand for what is possible when we all work together. Design build delivery creates an opportunity for us all, designers, builders and owners, to be winners.

Happy 25th Anniversary DBIA! Here's to the next 25!